Separation anxiety? We think codependence is a good thing. Are you a family that prefers to stay together? Are you traveling couples that prefer splitting the cost for a cool suite that is less expensive than renting two regular rooms separately? Or do you need to kick your snoring spouse into another bedroom so that you can at least get some gosh darn sleep while on vacation? We'll throw in some whimsy like taking a bath inside a genie bottle or an illuminated chromatherapy bathtub so that you REALLY don't feel like you're in Kansas anymore (not that there's anything wrong with Kansas...)

WAY-COOL WINES, RAD ROOM PACKAGES and GROOVY GREETING GOODIES! Click below to find out about all of our cool special packages and neat treats we can arrange for you.

There ain't nothin similar about our four suites. Each offers some similar and some very different amenities. The Shagadellic is our only suite with a fully-equipped kitchen. Upstairs Downstairs gives you the entire upstairs of the main house and therefore total privacy with no other units next to you. Genie's Bottle and George's Spacepad have out-of-this world bathing opportunities (complete with TV's in the bathrooms) and, because it's only the two of them on the upper floor of an entire wing, they have wonderful views of the village on one side, the East Branch of the Delaware

No George, that's not a glowing red mothership with a matching baby UFO in the distance, it's an illuminated chromatherapy bathtub and sink. Close the shimmering silver metallic curtains, turn out all the other lights, fill up the 45-gallon tub and enjoy a bathing experience that is literally out-of-this-world. And don't worry if anyone in the living room can see through the curtains. They can't.
